SUBJECT: Morning Developments

Lebanon/Israel/Syria

The commander of Israeli forces in Lebanon today called on Syrian troops to evacuate Beirut and its suburbs. Damascus has rejected the Israeli ultimatum. (Dow Jones)

Falklands

The Argentine wire service Dyn has reported the conditions which the British commander made for the withdrawal of Argentina's troops from the Falklands. They included an immediate cease-fire with retention of prisoners, payment of reparations, reinstatement of a British governor, and a withdrawal of the remaining Argentine troops not captured in the conflict. Dyn's military sources stated the proposal is unacceptable to Buenos Aires, and they anticipated continued Argentine diplomatic and economic actions to recover the islands. British MOD sources today said that according to estimates made by their troops on the Falklands, approximately 14,800 Argentines have surrendered with 11,000 coming from Port Stanley alone. (AP)

In a statement to Parliament this afternoon, Prime Minister Thatcher said that Falklands Governor Rex Hunt will return there as soon as possible. (FBIS)

EC/Falklands

EC Council President Tindemans today stated that the Community is considering lifting the ban on Argentine imports in the wake of the Argentine garrison's surrender. A foreign ministers' meeting may be called as soon as there is a total cessation of hostilities. (Reuter)

Chad/OAU

Zairian President Mobutu, in answer to a direct request from Chadian leader Habre, has decided to keep Zaire's PKF contingent in Chad. The US Embassy in Kinshasa notes that Mobutu can be expected to appeal for UN funds to support his forces and likely will demand rapid US action in securing pledges for the fund. (Emb Kinshasa 6670, C)

The Embassy in Nairobi reports that OAU Chairman Moi maintains that the OAU has given no approval for the continued presence of PKF forces in Chad beyond 30 June. Moi has stated that he cannot provide "OAU cover" to national elements of PKF that choose to remain in Chad and the Embassy notes that he is unlikely to alter his stand, unless influential OAU members pressure him.
